THE COVERHOLDER JOURNEY

BUSINESS IDEA

Meet with Whitehall Court Insurance, the sponsoring Lloyd's Broker, and prepare a detailed business plan.

WE START WITH YOUR IDEA.

Our first meeting is to get to know who you are, what you specialise in, and why. This first and exciting step in our journey together is where we will begin to understand your business proposition and identify your delegated authority requirements.

We're also pretty good ears to bounce your ideas off having been within the heart of the London insurance market for quite some time. Try us!

Within this step we will also begin to explain, succinctly, the process required to become an approved Lloyd's Coverholder – giving you the authority to issue insurance documents on behalf of Lloyd's syndicates. We will also help you in building your required business plan – highlighting and expanding on some of the minimum requirements.

These include three key aspects:

OPERATIONAL:

- Company overview;
- What does your distribution channel look like and how is your business generated;
- A market overview and business motivation; and
- Highlighting your company expertise and key personnel.

UNDERWRITING REQUIREMENTS AND PERFORMANCE:

- Risk classes;
- 3-year premium income projection;
- Minimum of 5-years loss history (or modelled forecast);
- Target profitability projections etc. loss ratio;

- Underwriting criteria / rationale / risk appetite;
- Proposed pricing / rating structure;
- Any reason for previous insurer declining to renew (if applicable); and
- Where are your target territories.

COMPLIANCE:

- Details of any other delegated authority contracts (if applicable);
- The firm's licensing authorisations;
- Details of the firm's Professional Indemnity arrangements;
- A copy of your firm's financials and/or projected 3-year profit & loss and balance sheet statements; and
- Details of your IT systems and controls (ability to satisfy bordereaux reporting).

Delegated Authority refers to a distribution method in which a Coverholder is permitted to underwrite business and/or manage claims on behalf of the Managing Agent.

SEARCH & NEGOTIATE

Whitehall Court Insurance identifies suitable Managing Agents to support the business plan proposal.

In step 2 of our journey together, we as Whitehall Court Insurance will canvass the market and identify suitable Managing Agent(s) who could be interested in supporting your business plan/book of business. This may entail approaching one of the many Managing Agents with whom we have long standing relationships with, or perhaps even someone new - should what they have be something you need.

Some items for consideration include:

- The Managing Agent's Risk appetite;
- Licensing requirements; and
- The degree of delegated authority required (i.e. Full binding authority, a prior submit binder or pre-agreed rates).

REFINE

Refine opportunity and set-up Binder Authority Agreement

Once a suitable Lloyd's Managing Agent has been identified for our mutual purposes, we will sharpen the business proposition and negotiate the terms of the proposed agreement on your behalf. This will include a review and refinement of:

- Policy placing documents and wordings;
- Underwriting guidelines;
- Pricing and/or rating structure;
- Claims handling process; and
- Obtaining an 'in-principal' agreement from the Managing Agent to provide you with a delegated Binding Authority Agreement

A Binding Authority Agreement, also known as a "binder", details what, how, and where the Coverholder is permitted to write risks on behalf of the Managing Agent. The responsibilities, entitlements, and obligations of all parties are recorded here.

STAGING

We assist you to complete the Coverholder funding form and associated compliance.

Next, we as Whitehall Court Insurance will confirm our support to sponsor you and your firm to become a Lloyd's Coverholder. In doing so, we will assist in your completion and filing of the Lloyd's Coverholder Application Form and work with the sponsoring Managing Agent in preparing the terms of the Binding Authority Agreement. A lot of paperwork which we happen to be great at!

“A CORNERSTONE OF OUR SUCCESS IS OUR LONGSTANDING PARTNERSHIPS THAT WE HAVE BUILT WITH SYNDICATES IN THE LLOYD'S MARKET.”

WHITEHALL COURT INSURANCE

APPROVAL

Delegated authority is granted and your firm is now an approved Lloyd's Coverholder.

Now we're here.

- The business plan and Lloyd's Coverholder application form is submitted to Lloyd's of London for approval.
- Thereafter the Managing Agent will carry out their respective due diligence process in order to grant you and your firm their Underwriting Pen.

Once approval is granted, Whitehall Court Insurance will ensure that you and your team understand the terms and conditions of the Binding Authority Agreement, as well as all the other responsibilities that come along with it.

An Underwriter's Pen, and it being bestowed to your firm, refers to the authority given by a Managing Agent to enter into a contract, or contracts, of insurance to be underwritten in accordance within the terms and conditions of your Binding Authority Agreement.
